

INDICATIONS.
For Tennessee and the Ohio Valley, partly cloudy weather and local rains, followed by clear weather with variable winds, shifting to northerly, rising barometer and stationary or lower temperature.

DEATHS FROM CHOLERA IN EGYPT Tuesday numbered 131, including one in Cairo.

The condition of the Count de Chambord continues very critical. He has received the last sacrament of the Church.

When silver becomes the currency wages will be paid at the old rate, but prices of all commodities will rise and another tax will be imposed on labor.

Gov. McHenry, of Louisiana, has been placed in the field by his friends as a candidate for re-election in opposition to the suggested candidacy of Mr. Ogden.

OSCAR WILDE's play, The Mikado, was performed successfully at the Union Square Theatre, New York, on Monday. Oscar was called out and returned thanks.

EX-CONGRESSMAN PAUL, the leader of the river and harbor and the anti-Chinese element in the last Congress, predicts that the Pacific States will elect Republican electoral votes in 1892.

The Spanish monarchists are deploring the influence that French republicanism is displaying in that country. Monarchists in other countries will have occasion to join in the lament. The day of kings is passing away.

The fact that the country is getting along very well with no President in the office is one that we can do in an emergency. If Congress and the entire administration should be annihilated everything would go on just as usual.

THE New Orleans Pyrope thinks attempts may be made to introduce the trade dollar into that city, and warns its readers that the circulating value is only fifty-five cents. The warning may not be without use in Memphis.

This hostility to the Chinese in California seems to have passed away. It is reported that there is a scarcity of labor in many manufacturing industries, and employers are not only willing but glad to get Mongolians to work for them.

LOUISIANA claims that during the past year great success has been achieved in restoring her levee system to a high state of efficiency. The subventions received from the great floods of last year better than even the most sanguine could have expected.

The Vicksburg Herald desires to eradicate the impression that the decline of operations in that city's harbor are a failure. It is the opinion of competent judges that the good result of keeping the river front in a desired condition will have been obtained from one year's work to another.

CORRUPTION, so active in Starks and bank-and-church doings, is now showing little glimmering in the army and navy, and corruption is being kept in the background. Duplicating pay accounts is the mode of cheating most generally resorted to, embezzlement, with cases of drunkenness and a little bigness may be the disgraceful life.

MR. WM. H. VANDERBILT, who has just returned to New York from the White Mountains, again announces, this time through a friend, Mr. William T. Russell, that he has actually withdrawn from active participation in financial movements and operation. He says he is not in bad health, but that he has enough, and is willing to quit that he can afford this luxury, and intends to enjoy it.

SENATOR LAFAYETTE, who succeeded Senator Conkling, and who is a sort of butt, has a son who is clerk of his committee at $6 a day. Senator Mahone is in the same boat; also Senator Buchanan, of Delaware, and Senator Mitchell, of Pennsylvania. There is nothing like keeping it all in the family. An appropriation for the support of the relatives of our national legislators will be the next thing in order.

REPORTS from the cotton fields about Austin, Tex., are very discouraging. In many localities the cotton is literally buried. The very best stands on display do not yield a bale to five acres. Otho Brazos, about Haines, the drought and boll-worm have played and havoc, and even with a good rain in the next ten days, for half a crop will be gathered. Hundreds of acres will not raise enough to pay for advances made them by the planter.

A DISPATCH to the Cincinnati Commercial says efforts are making to induce the cotton planters to accept of the new cotton gin. The gin is the property of small property holders, $100 or $200, from taxation. Also that a national cotton gin has been organized in that State, the "Gin House," which will make and make watches and signs and warlike paraphernalia. The object of all this is a secret; but it is said that it will not pay tax on small amounts of property except by paying tax on a part of their property.

MR. CLARKSON told Mr. Parrell in the Commons yesterday that he is very sorry that the House of Lords had rejected the Irish registration bill. He also stated that he would introduce a bill next session on the same subject at the next session of Parliament. A Conservative member also gave notice that he would propose at the next session a bill providing for home rule for Ireland, as being the best means of securing peace among the Irish people. This announcement was received with cheers. There is something in persistent agitation after all.

THE Pennsylvania Democratic candidates for State Treasurer and Auditor-General, Messrs. Powell and Taggart, were in Philadelphia on Wednesday, in company with Chairman House of the committee. In conversation with a reporter the candidates said that no plan for the State campaign has as yet been decided upon, and that the matter had not even been formally discussed. Future events, notably the Ohio election, will have much to do with the battle in Pennsylvania. The candidates will not write letters of acceptance, as they consider their election as the State Convention sufficient.

ACCORDING to the St. Louis Tribune the politicians are no more evenly matched in their respective States than in their respective countries. The politicians are no more evenly matched in their respective States than in their respective countries. The politicians are no more evenly matched in their respective States than in their respective countries.

WANTS to be a Widow.
BUFFALO, N. Y., August 22.—Josephine Beiderman was charged with attempting to procure poison with which to murder her husband. She was arrested on several occasions but was released. It is believed, it was procured by poison being placed in the food of the husband. Mrs. Beiderman is a poor, elderly woman, and lately has been receiving the attention of one of her boarders.

PITTSBURGH, August 22.—A special from Pennsylvania, Jefferson County, Pa., says: "During the payment of railroad taxes, yesterday a dispute arose about wages, culminating in a riot, in which a Hungarian named Peter Yender was killed and two fellow-workers, John Sweeney and John Delo, were shot, and a fireman named Tom Kearney unceremoniously beaten. No arrests have been made, but Sheriff Anderson and a posse are on hand, and will probably make some arrests to-day. No further trouble is anticipated."

THE STATE CAPITAL.

The New Municipal Government of Nashville, which will be inaugurated in October.

The Vice-Pullers Already at Work in Their Efforts to Get Control of the Affairs of the City.

Special to the Appeal.

NASHVILLE, August 22.—The citizens of Nashville are just now beginning to discuss the subject of a new city government, created under an act passed by the Legislature March 21, 1885, to be inaugurated by an election on or about the second Thursday in October, 1888. The act provides that it shall consist of a mayor and a City Council, the latter to be composed of two councilmen, to be elected for four years, with a Board of Public Works and Affairs. At the forthcoming election five of the councilmen will be elected for two and five for four years, and biennially thereafter there shall be an election to fill the expiring terms as they occur. All vacancies occurring in the board shall be filled by the remaining members. Councilmen shall receive no compensation. The mayor shall hold office two years, at a salary of $2,000 per annum, and shall make quarterly statements showing the financial condition of the city. After that time the mayor shall be empowered to appoint the clerk and judge of the election.

The act provides that the City Council shall make no appropriation for festivities, pageants, excursions or for any other purpose, except as may be authorized by the City Council.

The Board of Public Works and Affairs shall consist of three persons who shall have been freeholders and elected in the city for four years, one of whom shall be elected by the City Council, and shall be elected for six years, provided, that at the first election one member shall be elected for two years, one for four years and one for six years, and thereafter one shall be elected every two years to serve a term of six years. No member shall serve more than two terms.

The board is authorized, exclusively, to appoint heads of departments, policemen, firemen, workmen, engineers, engineers, clerks, superintendents, laborers and other persons and to fix the salaries of the same. It is also given exclusive power to make all necessary contracts and improvements.

The board shall devote its time and attention to the duties of that office, and shall not engage in any other business. The City Council is empowered to fix the salaries of the members of the board prior to their election.

The board is authorized, exclusively, to appoint heads of departments, policemen, firemen, workmen, engineers, engineers, clerks, superintendents, laborers and other persons and to fix the salaries of the same. It is also given exclusive power to make all necessary contracts and improvements.

The board shall devote its time and attention to the duties of that office, and shall not engage in any other business. The City Council is empowered to fix the salaries of the members of the board prior to their election.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL CANNELL. I visited the office of Adjutant-General R. W. Cannell to-day, and found that gentleman at his post as usual. The general has arranged his office in admirable style, everything around him being neatly kept. The books and papers are in the best order, and he has his hands upon almost any of them, even in the dark.

The general says that four colored military companies had recently been organized in Nashville, to wit: the Fulton, the Spencer, the Murrell and the Bell. These companies will probably be pitted against each other in competitive drills.

PROSECUTIONS CONTINUING. The State Convention of the Republican Party met this morning, and elected R. A. Campbell temporary chairman. The chairman then called on the delegates to hear an expression of opinion on the subject of constitutional amendments. Several delegates responded to the call. The majority favored the organization of a separate party for the purpose of electing representatives to the Legislature, who will submit the question to the people for their consideration.

The State Convention of the Republican Party met this morning, and elected R. A. Campbell temporary chairman. The chairman then called on the delegates to hear an expression of opinion on the subject of constitutional amendments. Several delegates responded to the call. The majority favored the organization of a separate party for the purpose of electing representatives to the Legislature, who will submit the question to the people for their consideration.

J. H. McDowell, of Olin county, as well as the twelve people of the best, which understood the call for this convention to mean that a movement would be put on foot to organize a separate and distinct party. To this they were opposed, as he did not think it expedient at this time. He said he thought that the best move would be to thoroughly organize the temperance people all over the State, let them attend the convention and fight for a representative in the Legislature, who would be willing to meet the question of a constitutional amendment.

His people were in favor of this move to organize a separate party. He said that an effort was made in the last Legislature to secure the tax on whisky, but by his and a few other temperance members' efforts this was defeated by a few votes. He wanted a thorough organization of the party, and he thought it expedient at this time. He said he thought that the best move would be to thoroughly organize the temperance people all over the State, let them attend the convention and fight for a representative in the Legislature, who would be willing to meet the question of a constitutional amendment.

Dr. A. A. David on said that last year he opposed the nomination of a prohibition candidate and favored the introduction of Farnsworth for Governor. He said he was not in favor of the prohibition party, but he was in favor of the prohibition party.

WASHINGTON, August 22.—Of the three and one-half percent bonds embraced in the 121st call, $4,911,650 were redeemed at the Treasury Department to-day, under the 121st call of August 15th. Of this amount, $477,000 has been held by the United States Treasury in trust for the redemption of bonds.

WASHINGTON, August 22.—The following circular has been sent by the State Department to all diplomatic and consular offices of the United States:

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, Washington, August 22, 1888. To Diplomatic and Consular Offices of the United States.

GENELEMEN.—It becomes my painful duty to announce the death of an illustrious citizen of the United States, who died at his residence in New York City, on August 21, 1888.

Jeremiah S. Black, a representative man of his country, one distinguished for faithful services in various public positions, and who had been a member of the United States Senate for several years, died at his residence in New York City, on August 21, 1888.

ST. LOUIS, August 22.—A special from Pennsylvania, Jefferson County, Pa., says: "During the payment of railroad taxes, yesterday a dispute arose about wages, culminating in a riot, in which a Hungarian named Peter Yender was killed and two fellow-workers, John Sweeney and John Delo, were shot, and a fireman named Tom Kearney unceremoniously beaten. No arrests have been made, but Sheriff Anderson and a posse are on hand, and will probably make some arrests to-day. No further trouble is anticipated."

A TOWN DESTROYED.

Rochester, Wis., Wrecked by a Cyclone—Four Hundred Houses Swept Away and Two Hundred Damaged.

Twenty-five Lives Lost and Forty to Fifty Injured—A Call for Aid—Storms and Tornadoes.

St. Paul, Minn., August 22.—A cyclone struck Rochester at 3 o'clock yesterday, demolished about 300 houses, damaged 200 more, and killed and wounded about 100 persons. The names of the killed so far as known in Rochester, are J. M. Cole, Mrs. McQuinn, Thomas Stiel, Mrs. Sarratt, August Sarratt, Mrs. Oshora and an infant, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. H. H. Williams Higgins, Mrs. Quick and child and Miss McQuinn; these, with four others unidentified, have been brought to the undertaker. Six others have been taken care of by friends. In Dodge and Winona counties there were terrible damages. It is impossible to give an estimate of the damage to the city and country. Rochester, one ward of which was destroyed last night, is situated eighty miles west of St. Paul, on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, a beautiful little city of 8,000 or 9,000 inhabitants. Most of the houses are brick and sturdy edifices. In the morning of the 22nd, the city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins. The city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins.

St. Paul, Minn., August 22.—A cyclone struck Rochester at 3 o'clock yesterday, demolished about 300 houses, damaged 200 more, and killed and wounded about 100 persons. The names of the killed so far as known in Rochester, are J. M. Cole, Mrs. McQuinn, Thomas Stiel, Mrs. Sarratt, August Sarratt, Mrs. Oshora and an infant, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. H. H. Williams Higgins, Mrs. Quick and child and Miss McQuinn; these, with four others unidentified, have been brought to the undertaker. Six others have been taken care of by friends. In Dodge and Winona counties there were terrible damages. It is impossible to give an estimate of the damage to the city and country. Rochester, one ward of which was destroyed last night, is situated eighty miles west of St. Paul, on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, a beautiful little city of 8,000 or 9,000 inhabitants. Most of the houses are brick and sturdy edifices. In the morning of the 22nd, the city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins. The city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins.

St. Paul, Minn., August 22.—A cyclone struck Rochester at 3 o'clock yesterday, demolished about 300 houses, damaged 200 more, and killed and wounded about 100 persons. The names of the killed so far as known in Rochester, are J. M. Cole, Mrs. McQuinn, Thomas Stiel, Mrs. Sarratt, August Sarratt, Mrs. Oshora and an infant, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. H. H. Williams Higgins, Mrs. Quick and child and Miss McQuinn; these, with four others unidentified, have been brought to the undertaker. Six others have been taken care of by friends. In Dodge and Winona counties there were terrible damages. It is impossible to give an estimate of the damage to the city and country. Rochester, one ward of which was destroyed last night, is situated eighty miles west of St. Paul, on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, a beautiful little city of 8,000 or 9,000 inhabitants. Most of the houses are brick and sturdy edifices. In the morning of the 22nd, the city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins. The city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins.

St. Paul, Minn., August 22.—A cyclone struck Rochester at 3 o'clock yesterday, demolished about 300 houses, damaged 200 more, and killed and wounded about 100 persons. The names of the killed so far as known in Rochester, are J. M. Cole, Mrs. McQuinn, Thomas Stiel, Mrs. Sarratt, August Sarratt, Mrs. Oshora and an infant, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. H. H. Williams Higgins, Mrs. Quick and child and Miss McQuinn; these, with four others unidentified, have been brought to the undertaker. Six others have been taken care of by friends. In Dodge and Winona counties there were terrible damages. It is impossible to give an estimate of the damage to the city and country. Rochester, one ward of which was destroyed last night, is situated eighty miles west of St. Paul, on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, a beautiful little city of 8,000 or 9,000 inhabitants. Most of the houses are brick and sturdy edifices. In the morning of the 22nd, the city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins. The city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins.

St. Paul, Minn., August 22.—A cyclone struck Rochester at 3 o'clock yesterday, demolished about 300 houses, damaged 200 more, and killed and wounded about 100 persons. The names of the killed so far as known in Rochester, are J. M. Cole, Mrs. McQuinn, Thomas Stiel, Mrs. Sarratt, August Sarratt, Mrs. Oshora and an infant, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. H. H. Williams Higgins, Mrs. Quick and child and Miss McQuinn; these, with four others unidentified, have been brought to the undertaker. Six others have been taken care of by friends. In Dodge and Winona counties there were terrible damages. It is impossible to give an estimate of the damage to the city and country. Rochester, one ward of which was destroyed last night, is situated eighty miles west of St. Paul, on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, a beautiful little city of 8,000 or 9,000 inhabitants. Most of the houses are brick and sturdy edifices. In the morning of the 22nd, the city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins. The city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins.

St. Paul, Minn., August 22.—A cyclone struck Rochester at 3 o'clock yesterday, demolished about 300 houses, damaged 200 more, and killed and wounded about 100 persons. The names of the killed so far as known in Rochester, are J. M. Cole, Mrs. McQuinn, Thomas Stiel, Mrs. Sarratt, August Sarratt, Mrs. Oshora and an infant, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. H. H. Williams Higgins, Mrs. Quick and child and Miss McQuinn; these, with four others unidentified, have been brought to the undertaker. Six others have been taken care of by friends. In Dodge and Winona counties there were terrible damages. It is impossible to give an estimate of the damage to the city and country. Rochester, one ward of which was destroyed last night, is situated eighty miles west of St. Paul, on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, a beautiful little city of 8,000 or 9,000 inhabitants. Most of the houses are brick and sturdy edifices. In the morning of the 22nd, the city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins. The city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins.

St. Paul, Minn., August 22.—A cyclone struck Rochester at 3 o'clock yesterday, demolished about 300 houses, damaged 200 more, and killed and wounded about 100 persons. The names of the killed so far as known in Rochester, are J. M. Cole, Mrs. McQuinn, Thomas Stiel, Mrs. Sarratt, August Sarratt, Mrs. Oshora and an infant, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. H. H. Williams Higgins, Mrs. Quick and child and Miss McQuinn; these, with four others unidentified, have been brought to the undertaker. Six others have been taken care of by friends. In Dodge and Winona counties there were terrible damages. It is impossible to give an estimate of the damage to the city and country. Rochester, one ward of which was destroyed last night, is situated eighty miles west of St. Paul, on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, a beautiful little city of 8,000 or 9,000 inhabitants. Most of the houses are brick and sturdy edifices. In the morning of the 22nd, the city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins. The city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins.

St. Paul, Minn., August 22.—A cyclone struck Rochester at 3 o'clock yesterday, demolished about 300 houses, damaged 200 more, and killed and wounded about 100 persons. The names of the killed so far as known in Rochester, are J. M. Cole, Mrs. McQuinn, Thomas Stiel, Mrs. Sarratt, August Sarratt, Mrs. Oshora and an infant, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. H. H. Williams Higgins, Mrs. Quick and child and Miss McQuinn; these, with four others unidentified, have been brought to the undertaker. Six others have been taken care of by friends. In Dodge and Winona counties there were terrible damages. It is impossible to give an estimate of the damage to the city and country. Rochester, one ward of which was destroyed last night, is situated eighty miles west of St. Paul, on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, a beautiful little city of 8,000 or 9,000 inhabitants. Most of the houses are brick and sturdy edifices. In the morning of the 22nd, the city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins. The city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins.

St. Paul, Minn., August 22.—A cyclone struck Rochester at 3 o'clock yesterday, demolished about 300 houses, damaged 200 more, and killed and wounded about 100 persons. The names of the killed so far as known in Rochester, are J. M. Cole, Mrs. McQuinn, Thomas Stiel, Mrs. Sarratt, August Sarratt, Mrs. Oshora and an infant, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. H. H. Williams Higgins, Mrs. Quick and child and Miss McQuinn; these, with four others unidentified, have been brought to the undertaker. Six others have been taken care of by friends. In Dodge and Winona counties there were terrible damages. It is impossible to give an estimate of the damage to the city and country. Rochester, one ward of which was destroyed last night, is situated eighty miles west of St. Paul, on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, a beautiful little city of 8,000 or 9,000 inhabitants. Most of the houses are brick and sturdy edifices. In the morning of the 22nd, the city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins. The city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins.

St. Paul, Minn., August 22.—A cyclone struck Rochester at 3 o'clock yesterday, demolished about 300 houses, damaged 200 more, and killed and wounded about 100 persons. The names of the killed so far as known in Rochester, are J. M. Cole, Mrs. McQuinn, Thomas Stiel, Mrs. Sarratt, August Sarratt, Mrs. Oshora and an infant, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. H. H. Williams Higgins, Mrs. Quick and child and Miss McQuinn; these, with four others unidentified, have been brought to the undertaker. Six others have been taken care of by friends. In Dodge and Winona counties there were terrible damages. It is impossible to give an estimate of the damage to the city and country. Rochester, one ward of which was destroyed last night, is situated eighty miles west of St. Paul, on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, a beautiful little city of 8,000 or 9,000 inhabitants. Most of the houses are brick and sturdy edifices. In the morning of the 22nd, the city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins. The city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins.

St. Paul, Minn., August 22.—A cyclone struck Rochester at 3 o'clock yesterday, demolished about 300 houses, damaged 200 more, and killed and wounded about 100 persons. The names of the killed so far as known in Rochester, are J. M. Cole, Mrs. McQuinn, Thomas Stiel, Mrs. Sarratt, August Sarratt, Mrs. Oshora and an infant, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. H. H. Williams Higgins, Mrs. Quick and child and Miss McQuinn; these, with four others unidentified, have been brought to the undertaker. Six others have been taken care of by friends. In Dodge and Winona counties there were terrible damages. It is impossible to give an estimate of the damage to the city and country. Rochester, one ward of which was destroyed last night, is situated eighty miles west of St. Paul, on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, a beautiful little city of 8,000 or 9,000 inhabitants. Most of the houses are brick and sturdy edifices. In the morning of the 22nd, the city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins. The city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins.

St. Paul, Minn., August 22.—A cyclone struck Rochester at 3 o'clock yesterday, demolished about 300 houses, damaged 200 more, and killed and wounded about 100 persons. The names of the killed so far as known in Rochester, are J. M. Cole, Mrs. McQuinn, Thomas Stiel, Mrs. Sarratt, August Sarratt, Mrs. Oshora and an infant, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. H. H. Williams Higgins, Mrs. Quick and child and Miss McQuinn; these, with four others unidentified, have been brought to the undertaker. Six others have been taken care of by friends. In Dodge and Winona counties there were terrible damages. It is impossible to give an estimate of the damage to the city and country. Rochester, one ward of which was destroyed last night, is situated eighty miles west of St. Paul, on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, a beautiful little city of 8,000 or 9,000 inhabitants. Most of the houses are brick and sturdy edifices. In the morning of the 22nd, the city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins. The city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins.

St. Paul, Minn., August 22.—A cyclone struck Rochester at 3 o'clock yesterday, demolished about 300 houses, damaged 200 more, and killed and wounded about 100 persons. The names of the killed so far as known in Rochester, are J. M. Cole, Mrs. McQuinn, Thomas Stiel, Mrs. Sarratt, August Sarratt, Mrs. Oshora and an infant, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. H. H. Williams Higgins, Mrs. Quick and child and Miss McQuinn; these, with four others unidentified, have been brought to the undertaker. Six others have been taken care of by friends. In Dodge and Winona counties there were terrible damages. It is impossible to give an estimate of the damage to the city and country. Rochester, one ward of which was destroyed last night, is situated eighty miles west of St. Paul, on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, a beautiful little city of 8,000 or 9,000 inhabitants. Most of the houses are brick and sturdy edifices. In the morning of the 22nd, the city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins. The city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins.

St. Paul, Minn., August 22.—A cyclone struck Rochester at 3 o'clock yesterday, demolished about 300 houses, damaged 200 more, and killed and wounded about 100 persons. The names of the killed so far as known in Rochester, are J. M. Cole, Mrs. McQuinn, Thomas Stiel, Mrs. Sarratt, August Sarratt, Mrs. Oshora and an infant, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. H. H. Williams Higgins, Mrs. Quick and child and Miss McQuinn; these, with four others unidentified, have been brought to the undertaker. Six others have been taken care of by friends. In Dodge and Winona counties there were terrible damages. It is impossible to give an estimate of the damage to the city and country. Rochester, one ward of which was destroyed last night, is situated eighty miles west of St. Paul, on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, a beautiful little city of 8,000 or 9,000 inhabitants. Most of the houses are brick and sturdy edifices. In the morning of the 22nd, the city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins. The city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins.

St. Paul, Minn., August 22.—A cyclone struck Rochester at 3 o'clock yesterday, demolished about 300 houses, damaged 200 more, and killed and wounded about 100 persons. The names of the killed so far as known in Rochester, are J. M. Cole, Mrs. McQuinn, Thomas Stiel, Mrs. Sarratt, August Sarratt, Mrs. Oshora and an infant, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. H. H. Williams Higgins, Mrs. Quick and child and Miss McQuinn; these, with four others unidentified, have been brought to the undertaker. Six others have been taken care of by friends. In Dodge and Winona counties there were terrible damages. It is impossible to give an estimate of the damage to the city and country. Rochester, one ward of which was destroyed last night, is situated eighty miles west of St. Paul, on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, a beautiful little city of 8,000 or 9,000 inhabitants. Most of the houses are brick and sturdy edifices. In the morning of the 22nd, the city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins. The city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins.

St. Paul, Minn., August 22.—A cyclone struck Rochester at 3 o'clock yesterday, demolished about 300 houses, damaged 200 more, and killed and wounded about 100 persons. The names of the killed so far as known in Rochester, are J. M. Cole, Mrs. McQuinn, Thomas Stiel, Mrs. Sarratt, August Sarratt, Mrs. Oshora and an infant, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. H. H. Williams Higgins, Mrs. Quick and child and Miss McQuinn; these, with four others unidentified, have been brought to the undertaker. Six others have been taken care of by friends. In Dodge and Winona counties there were terrible damages. It is impossible to give an estimate of the damage to the city and country. Rochester, one ward of which was destroyed last night, is situated eighty miles west of St. Paul, on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, a beautiful little city of 8,000 or 9,000 inhabitants. Most of the houses are brick and sturdy edifices. In the morning of the 22nd, the city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins. The city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins.

St. Paul, Minn., August 22.—A cyclone struck Rochester at 3 o'clock yesterday, demolished about 300 houses, damaged 200 more, and killed and wounded about 100 persons. The names of the killed so far as known in Rochester, are J. M. Cole, Mrs. McQuinn, Thomas Stiel, Mrs. Sarratt, August Sarratt, Mrs. Oshora and an infant, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. H. H. Williams Higgins, Mrs. Quick and child and Miss McQuinn; these, with four others unidentified, have been brought to the undertaker. Six others have been taken care of by friends. In Dodge and Winona counties there were terrible damages. It is impossible to give an estimate of the damage to the city and country. Rochester, one ward of which was destroyed last night, is situated eighty miles west of St. Paul, on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, a beautiful little city of 8,000 or 9,000 inhabitants. Most of the houses are brick and sturdy edifices. In the morning of the 22nd, the city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins. The city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins.

St. Paul, Minn., August 22.—A cyclone struck Rochester at 3 o'clock yesterday, demolished about 300 houses, damaged 200 more, and killed and wounded about 100 persons. The names of the killed so far as known in Rochester, are J. M. Cole, Mrs. McQuinn, Thomas Stiel, Mrs. Sarratt, August Sarratt, Mrs. Oshora and an infant, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. H. H. Williams Higgins, Mrs. Quick and child and Miss McQuinn; these, with four others unidentified, have been brought to the undertaker. Six others have been taken care of by friends. In Dodge and Winona counties there were terrible damages. It is impossible to give an estimate of the damage to the city and country. Rochester, one ward of which was destroyed last night, is situated eighty miles west of St. Paul, on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, a beautiful little city of 8,000 or 9,000 inhabitants. Most of the houses are brick and sturdy edifices. In the morning of the 22nd, the city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins. The city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins.

St. Paul, Minn., August 22.—A cyclone struck Rochester at 3 o'clock yesterday, demolished about 300 houses, damaged 200 more, and killed and wounded about 100 persons. The names of the killed so far as known in Rochester, are J. M. Cole, Mrs. McQuinn, Thomas Stiel, Mrs. Sarratt, August Sarratt, Mrs. Oshora and an infant, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. H. H. Williams Higgins, Mrs. Quick and child and Miss McQuinn; these, with four others unidentified, have been brought to the undertaker. Six others have been taken care of by friends. In Dodge and Winona counties there were terrible damages. It is impossible to give an estimate of the damage to the city and country. Rochester, one ward of which was destroyed last night, is situated eighty miles west of St. Paul, on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, a beautiful little city of 8,000 or 9,000 inhabitants. Most of the houses are brick and sturdy edifices. In the morning of the 22nd, the city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins. The city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins.

St. Paul, Minn., August 22.—A cyclone struck Rochester at 3 o'clock yesterday, demolished about 300 houses, damaged 200 more, and killed and wounded about 100 persons. The names of the killed so far as known in Rochester, are J. M. Cole, Mrs. McQuinn, Thomas Stiel, Mrs. Sarratt, August Sarratt, Mrs. Oshora and an infant, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. H. H. Williams Higgins, Mrs. Quick and child and Miss McQuinn; these, with four others unidentified, have been brought to the undertaker. Six others have been taken care of by friends. In Dodge and Winona counties there were terrible damages. It is impossible to give an estimate of the damage to the city and country. Rochester, one ward of which was destroyed last night, is situated eighty miles west of St. Paul, on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, a beautiful little city of 8,000 or 9,000 inhabitants. Most of the houses are brick and sturdy edifices. In the morning of the 22nd, the city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins. The city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins.

St. Paul, Minn., August 22.—A cyclone struck Rochester at 3 o'clock yesterday, demolished about 300 houses, damaged 200 more, and killed and wounded about 100 persons. The names of the killed so far as known in Rochester, are J. M. Cole, Mrs. McQuinn, Thomas Stiel, Mrs. Sarratt, August Sarratt, Mrs. Oshora and an infant, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. H. H. Williams Higgins, Mrs. Quick and child and Miss McQuinn; these, with four others unidentified, have been brought to the undertaker. Six others have been taken care of by friends. In Dodge and Winona counties there were terrible damages. It is impossible to give an estimate of the damage to the city and country. Rochester, one ward of which was destroyed last night, is situated eighty miles west of St. Paul, on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, a beautiful little city of 8,000 or 9,000 inhabitants. Most of the houses are brick and sturdy edifices. In the morning of the 22nd, the city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins. The city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins.

St. Paul, Minn., August 22.—A cyclone struck Rochester at 3 o'clock yesterday, demolished about 300 houses, damaged 200 more, and killed and wounded about 100 persons. The names of the killed so far as known in Rochester, are J. M. Cole, Mrs. McQuinn, Thomas Stiel, Mrs. Sarratt, August Sarratt, Mrs. Oshora and an infant, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. H. H. Williams Higgins, Mrs. Quick and child and Miss McQuinn; these, with four others unidentified, have been brought to the undertaker. Six others have been taken care of by friends. In Dodge and Winona counties there were terrible damages. It is impossible to give an estimate of the damage to the city and country. Rochester, one ward of which was destroyed last night, is situated eighty miles west of St. Paul, on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, a beautiful little city of 8,000 or 9,000 inhabitants. Most of the houses are brick and sturdy edifices. In the morning of the 22nd, the city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins. The city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins.

St. Paul, Minn., August 22.—A cyclone struck Rochester at 3 o'clock yesterday, demolished about 300 houses, damaged 200 more, and killed and wounded about 100 persons. The names of the killed so far as known in Rochester, are J. M. Cole, Mrs. McQuinn, Thomas Stiel, Mrs. Sarratt, August Sarratt, Mrs. Oshora and an infant, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. H. H. Williams Higgins, Mrs. Quick and child and Miss McQuinn; these, with four others unidentified, have been brought to the undertaker. Six others have been taken care of by friends. In Dodge and Winona counties there were terrible damages. It is impossible to give an estimate of the damage to the city and country. Rochester, one ward of which was destroyed last night, is situated eighty miles west of St. Paul, on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, a beautiful little city of 8,000 or 9,000 inhabitants. Most of the houses are brick and sturdy edifices. In the morning of the 22nd, the city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins. The city was a scene of desolation. The houses were swept away, and the streets were a mass of ruins.